Dedication

It's with a deep sense of gratitude that the 1977 CALUMET staff would like to dedicate this yearbook to Miss Katharine Crozier. Miss Crozier has shown a sincere interest and love for our student body. There are very few students who have not been befriended by Miss Crozier. Susquehannock has benefited greatly from her dramatic ability and experiences, as she has generously given her time to direct SHS musicals and play skits. She is head of the drama club and has helped many students to further their dramatic interests. She has spent hours rehearsing with students for VFW Oratorical contests. Miss Crozier has also shown much patience and understanding in her work with the remedial reading classes. For her kindness and compassion, we would like to express our appreciation to Miss Crozier by allowing her to call this book her own.

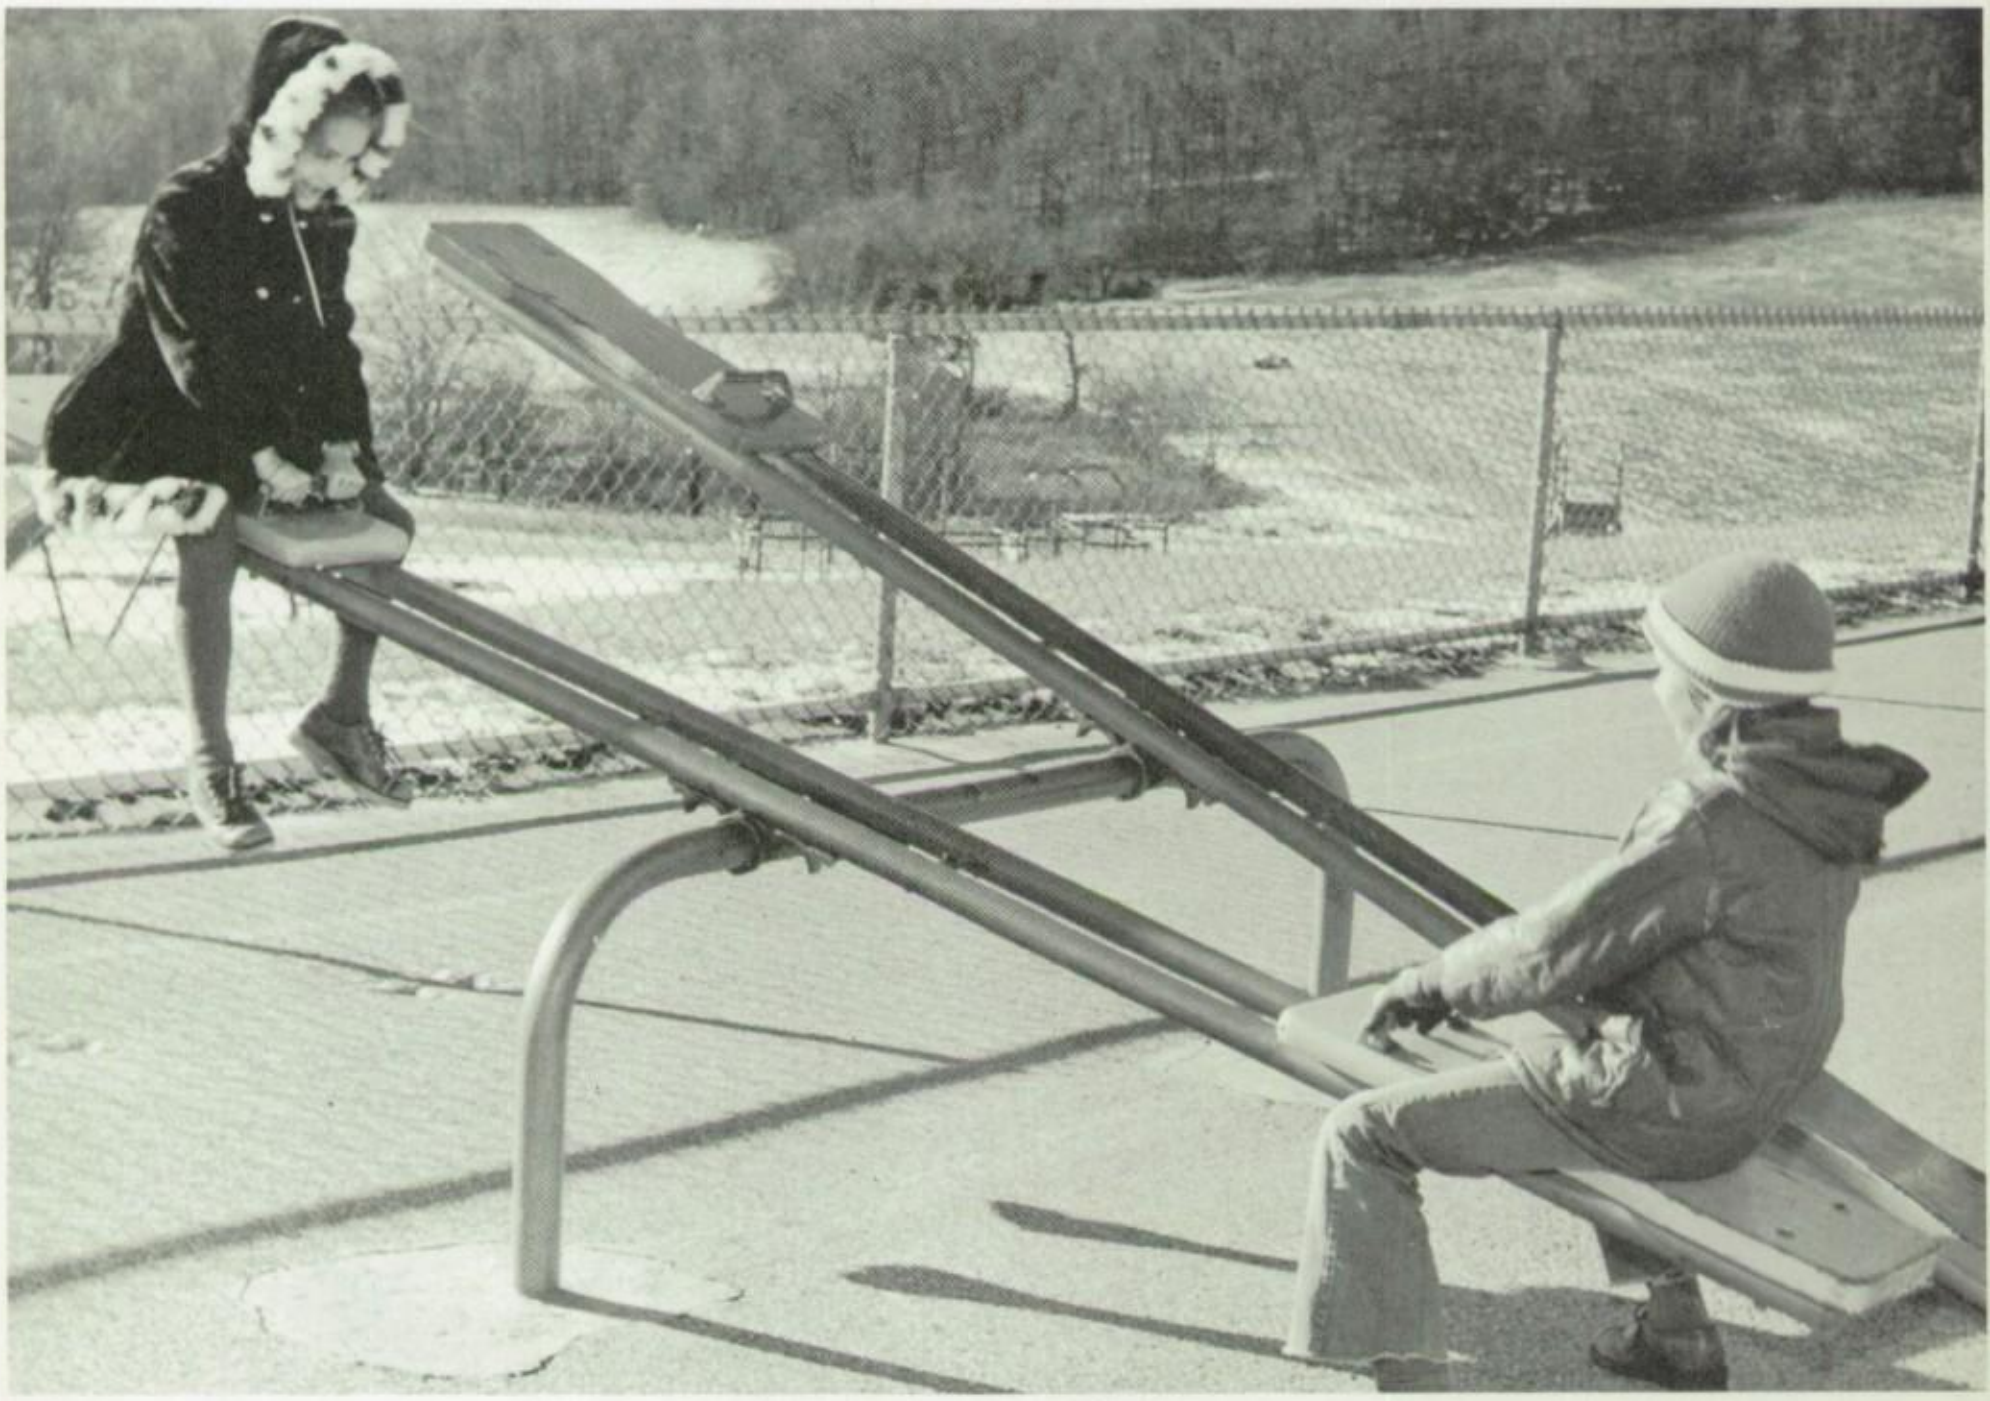
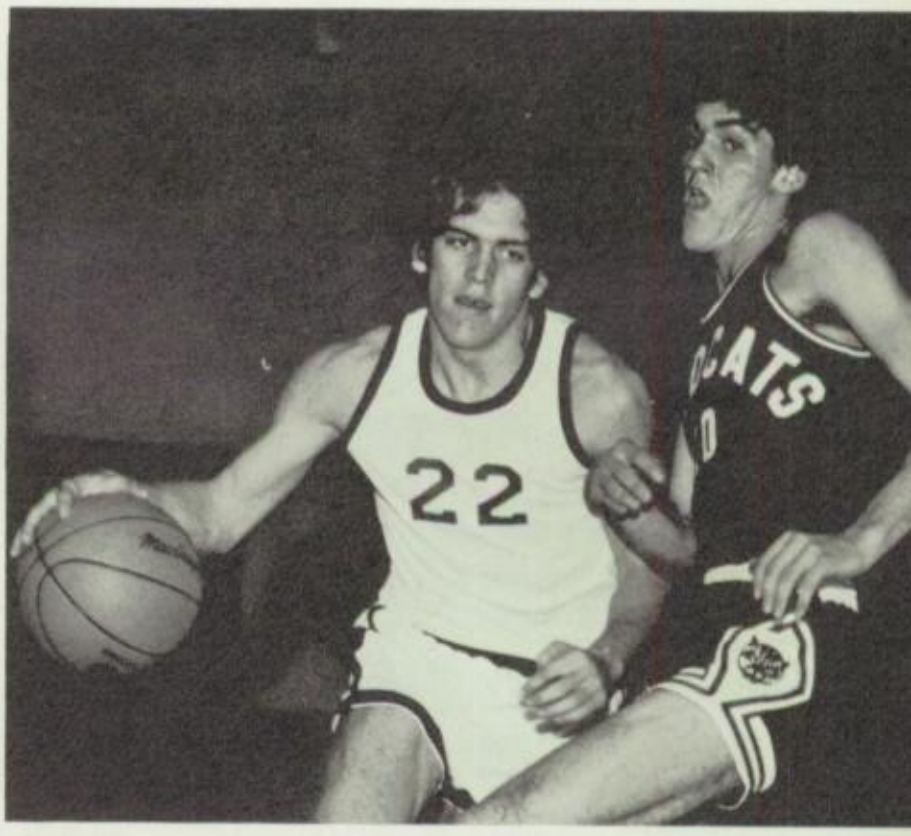
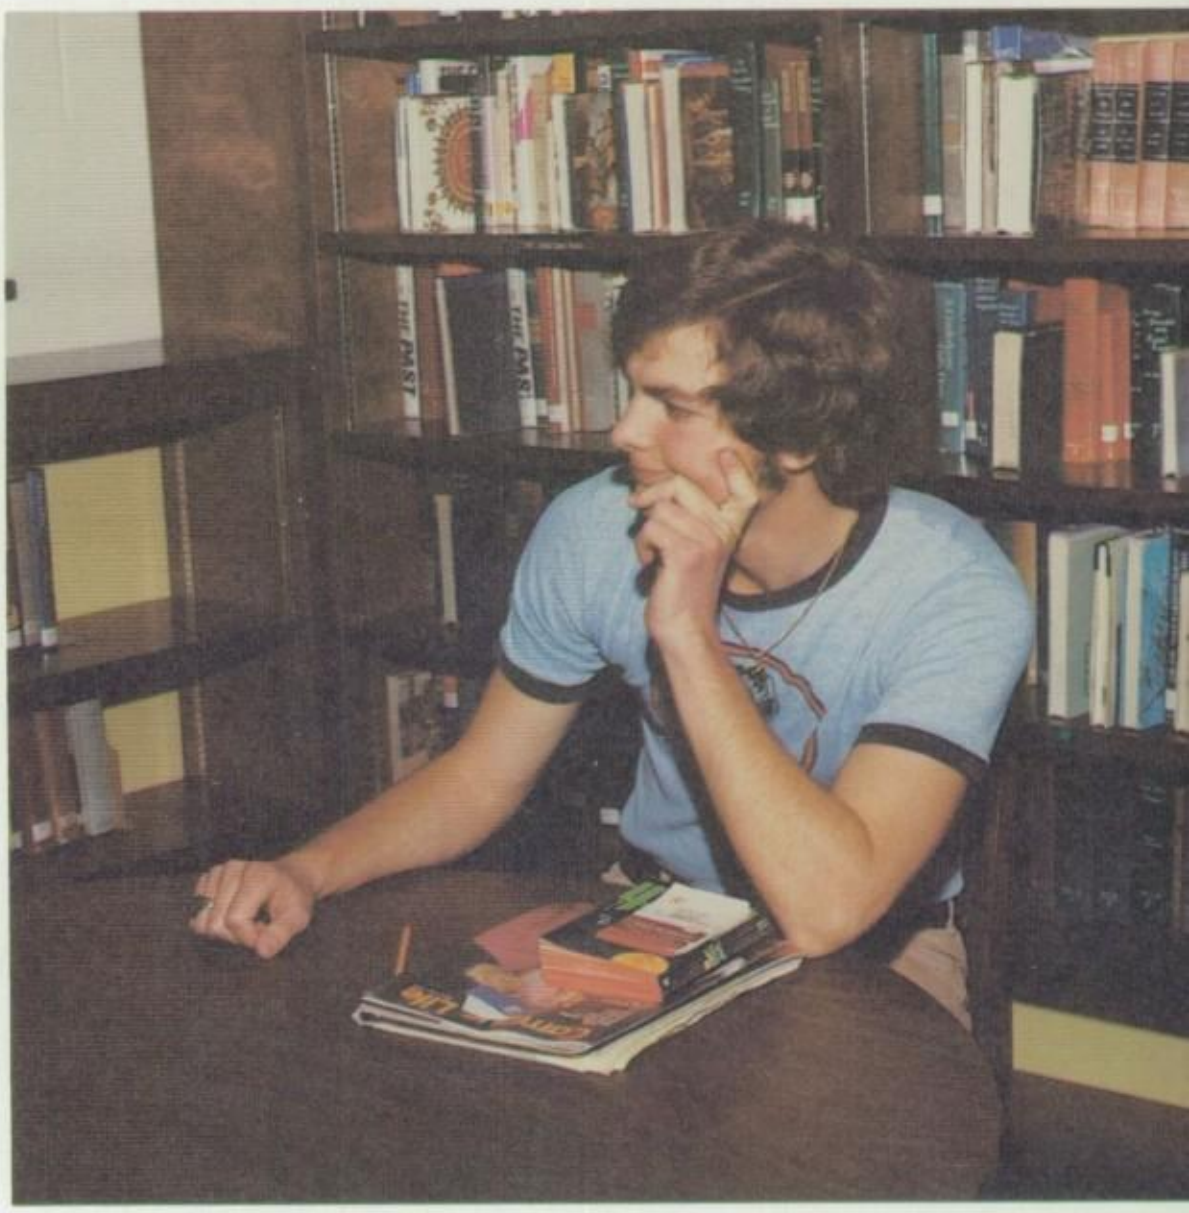
Yesterday Is But Today's Memory



And Tomorrow Is Today's Dream

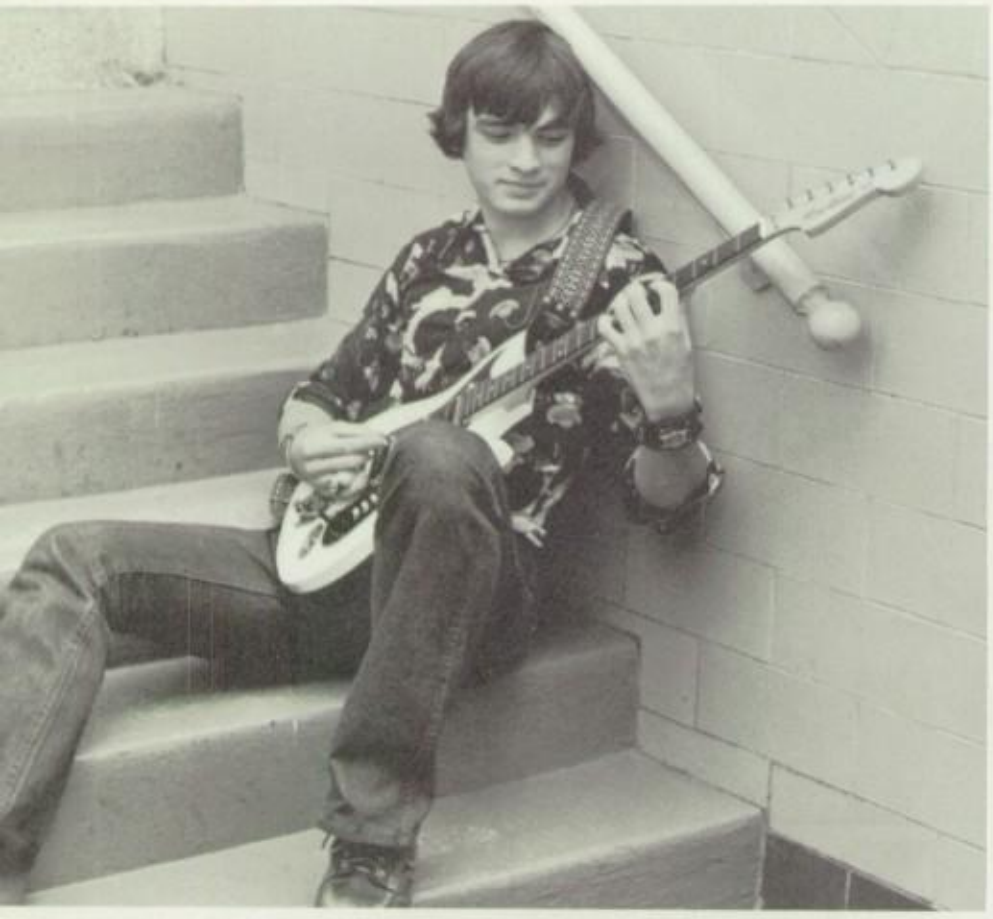


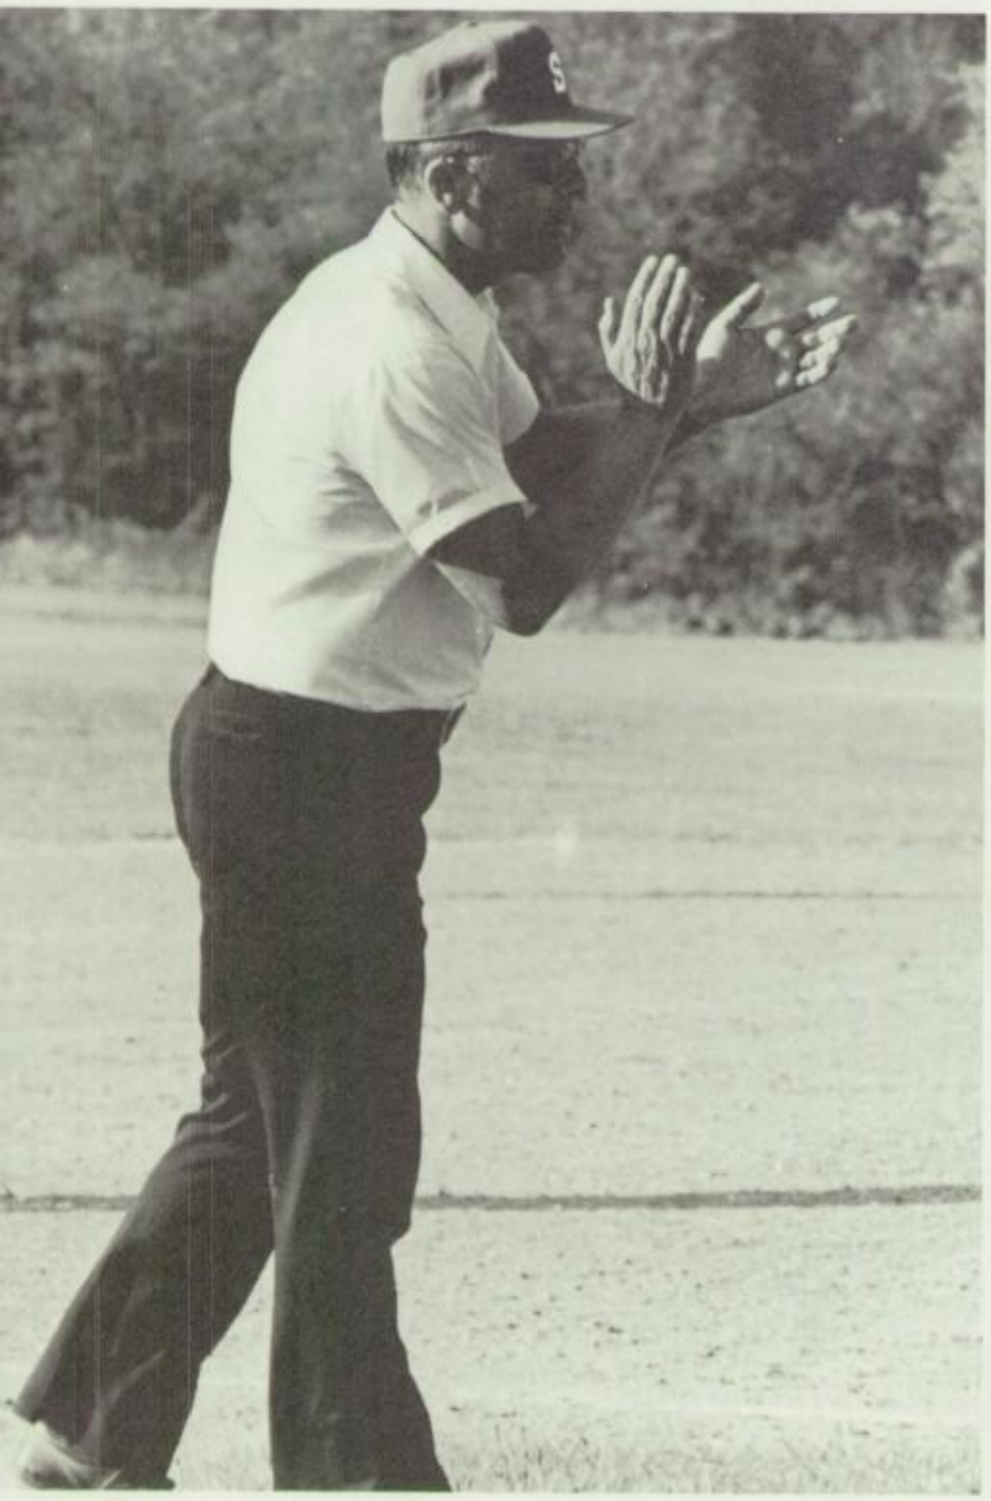
But if in Your Thoughts



You Must Measure Time Into Seasons

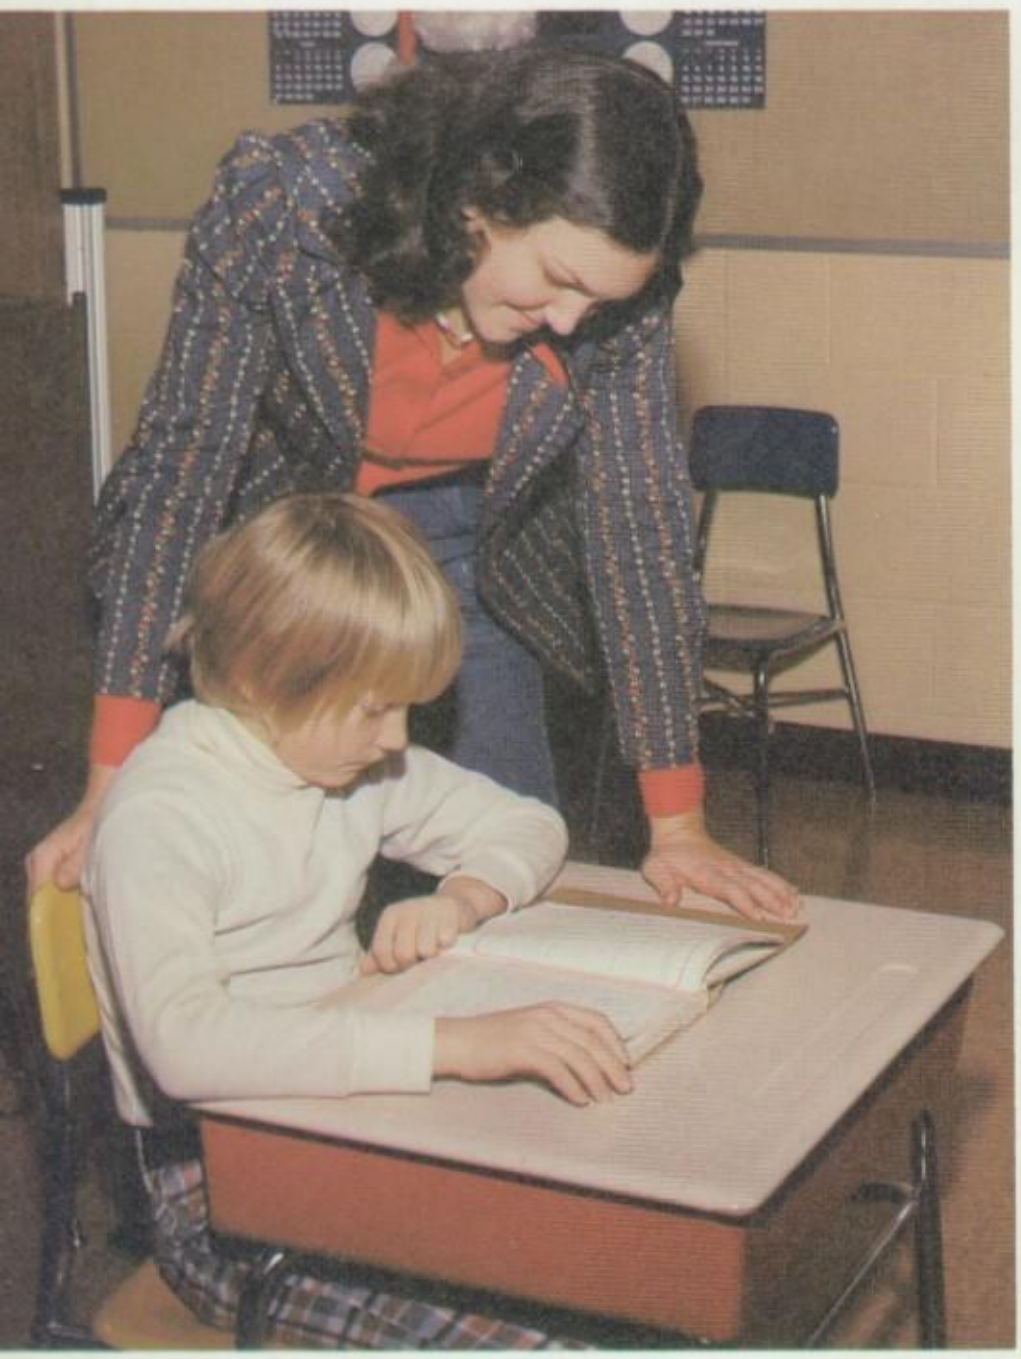
Let Each Season

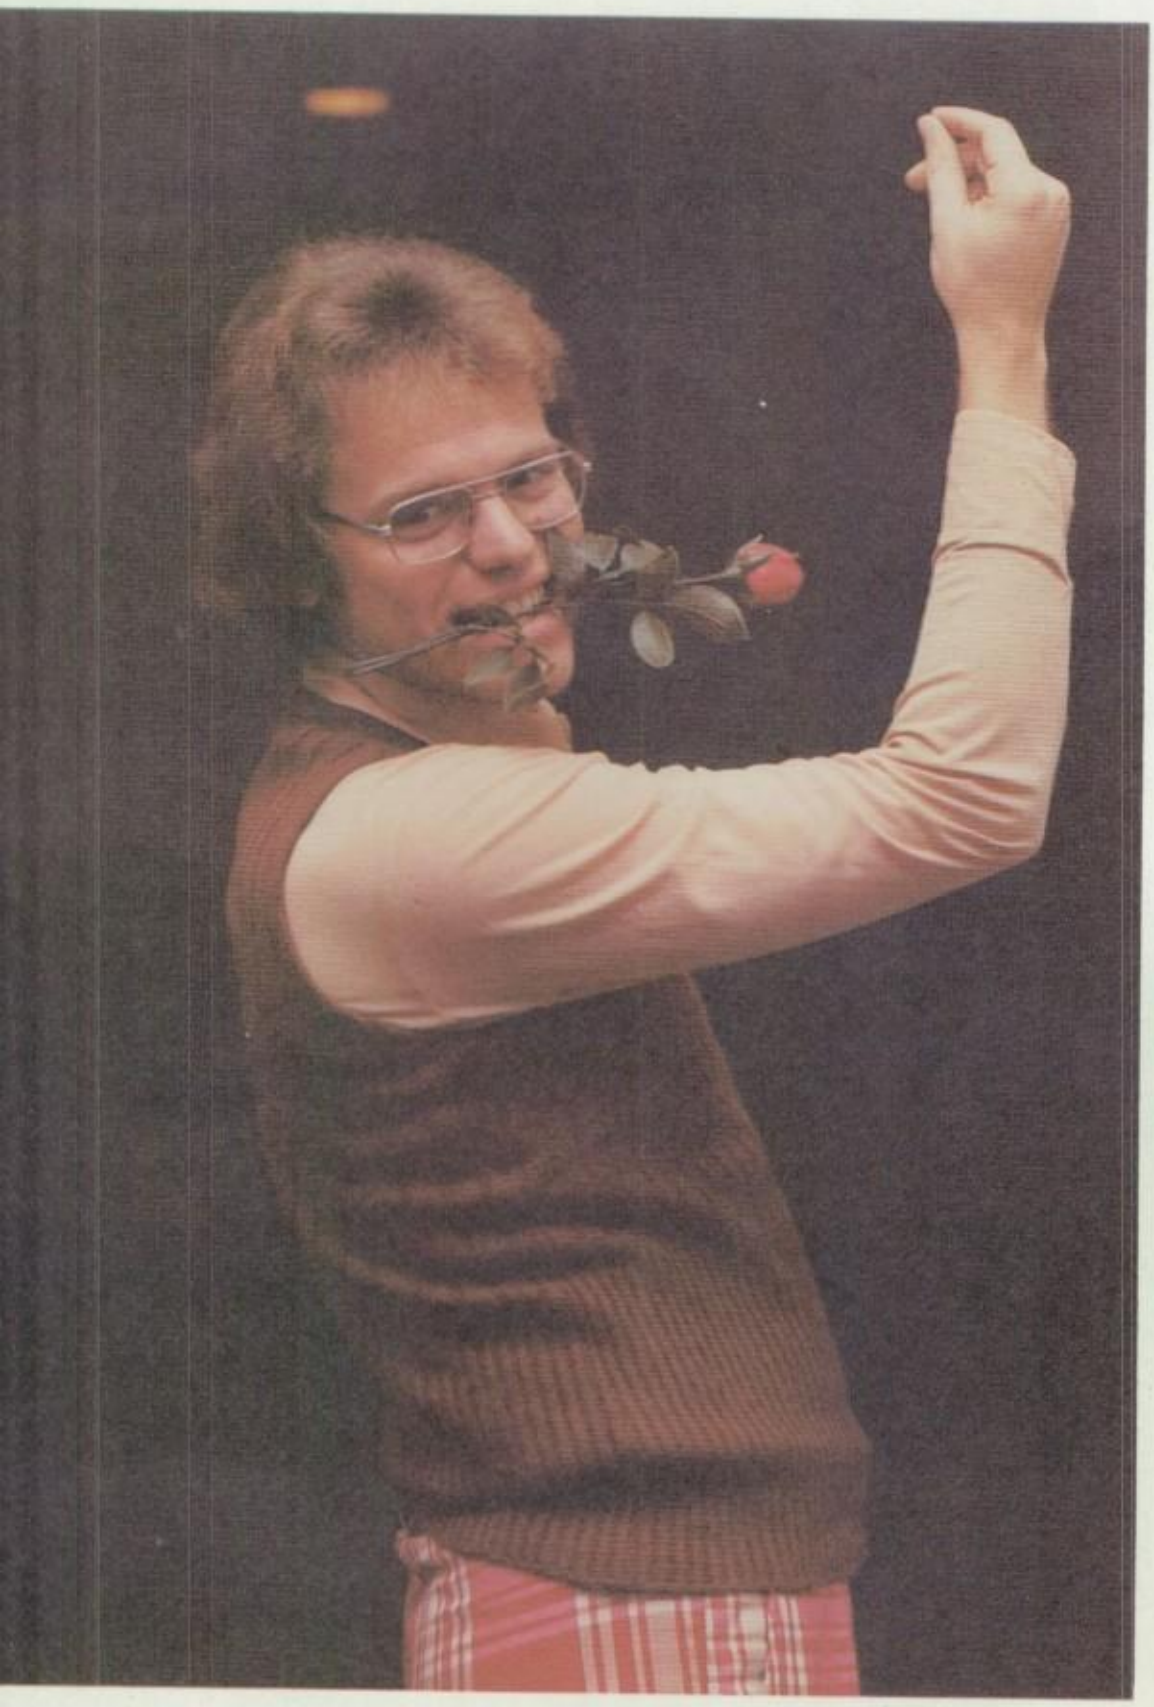




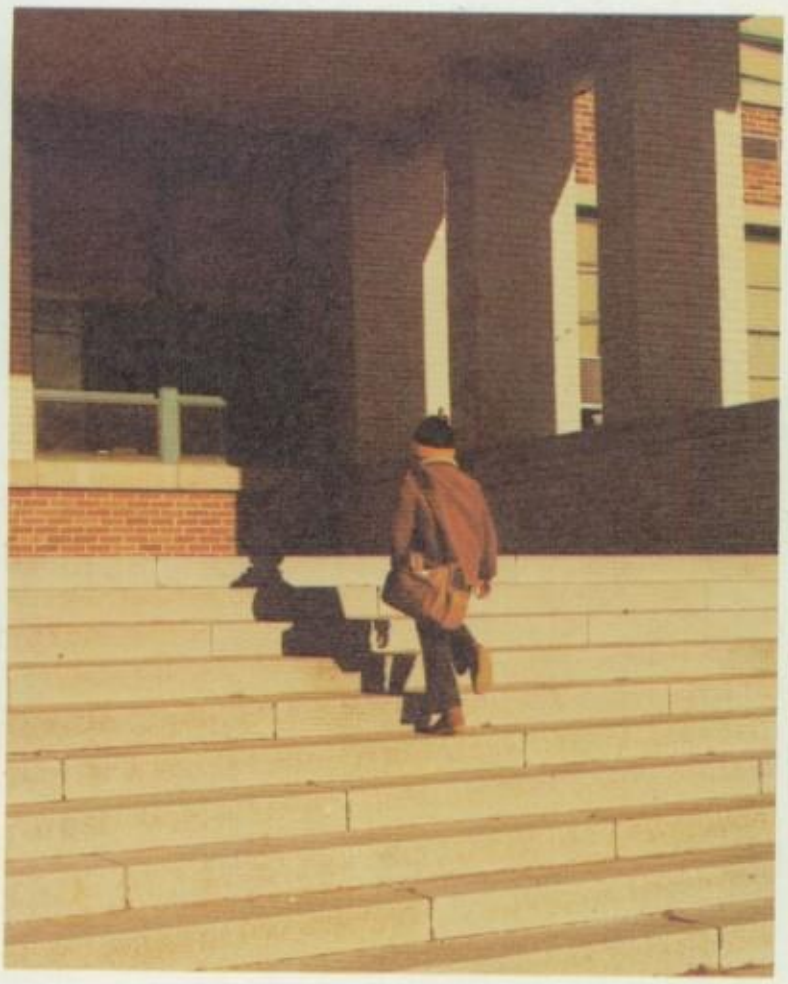
Encircle All the Other Seasons

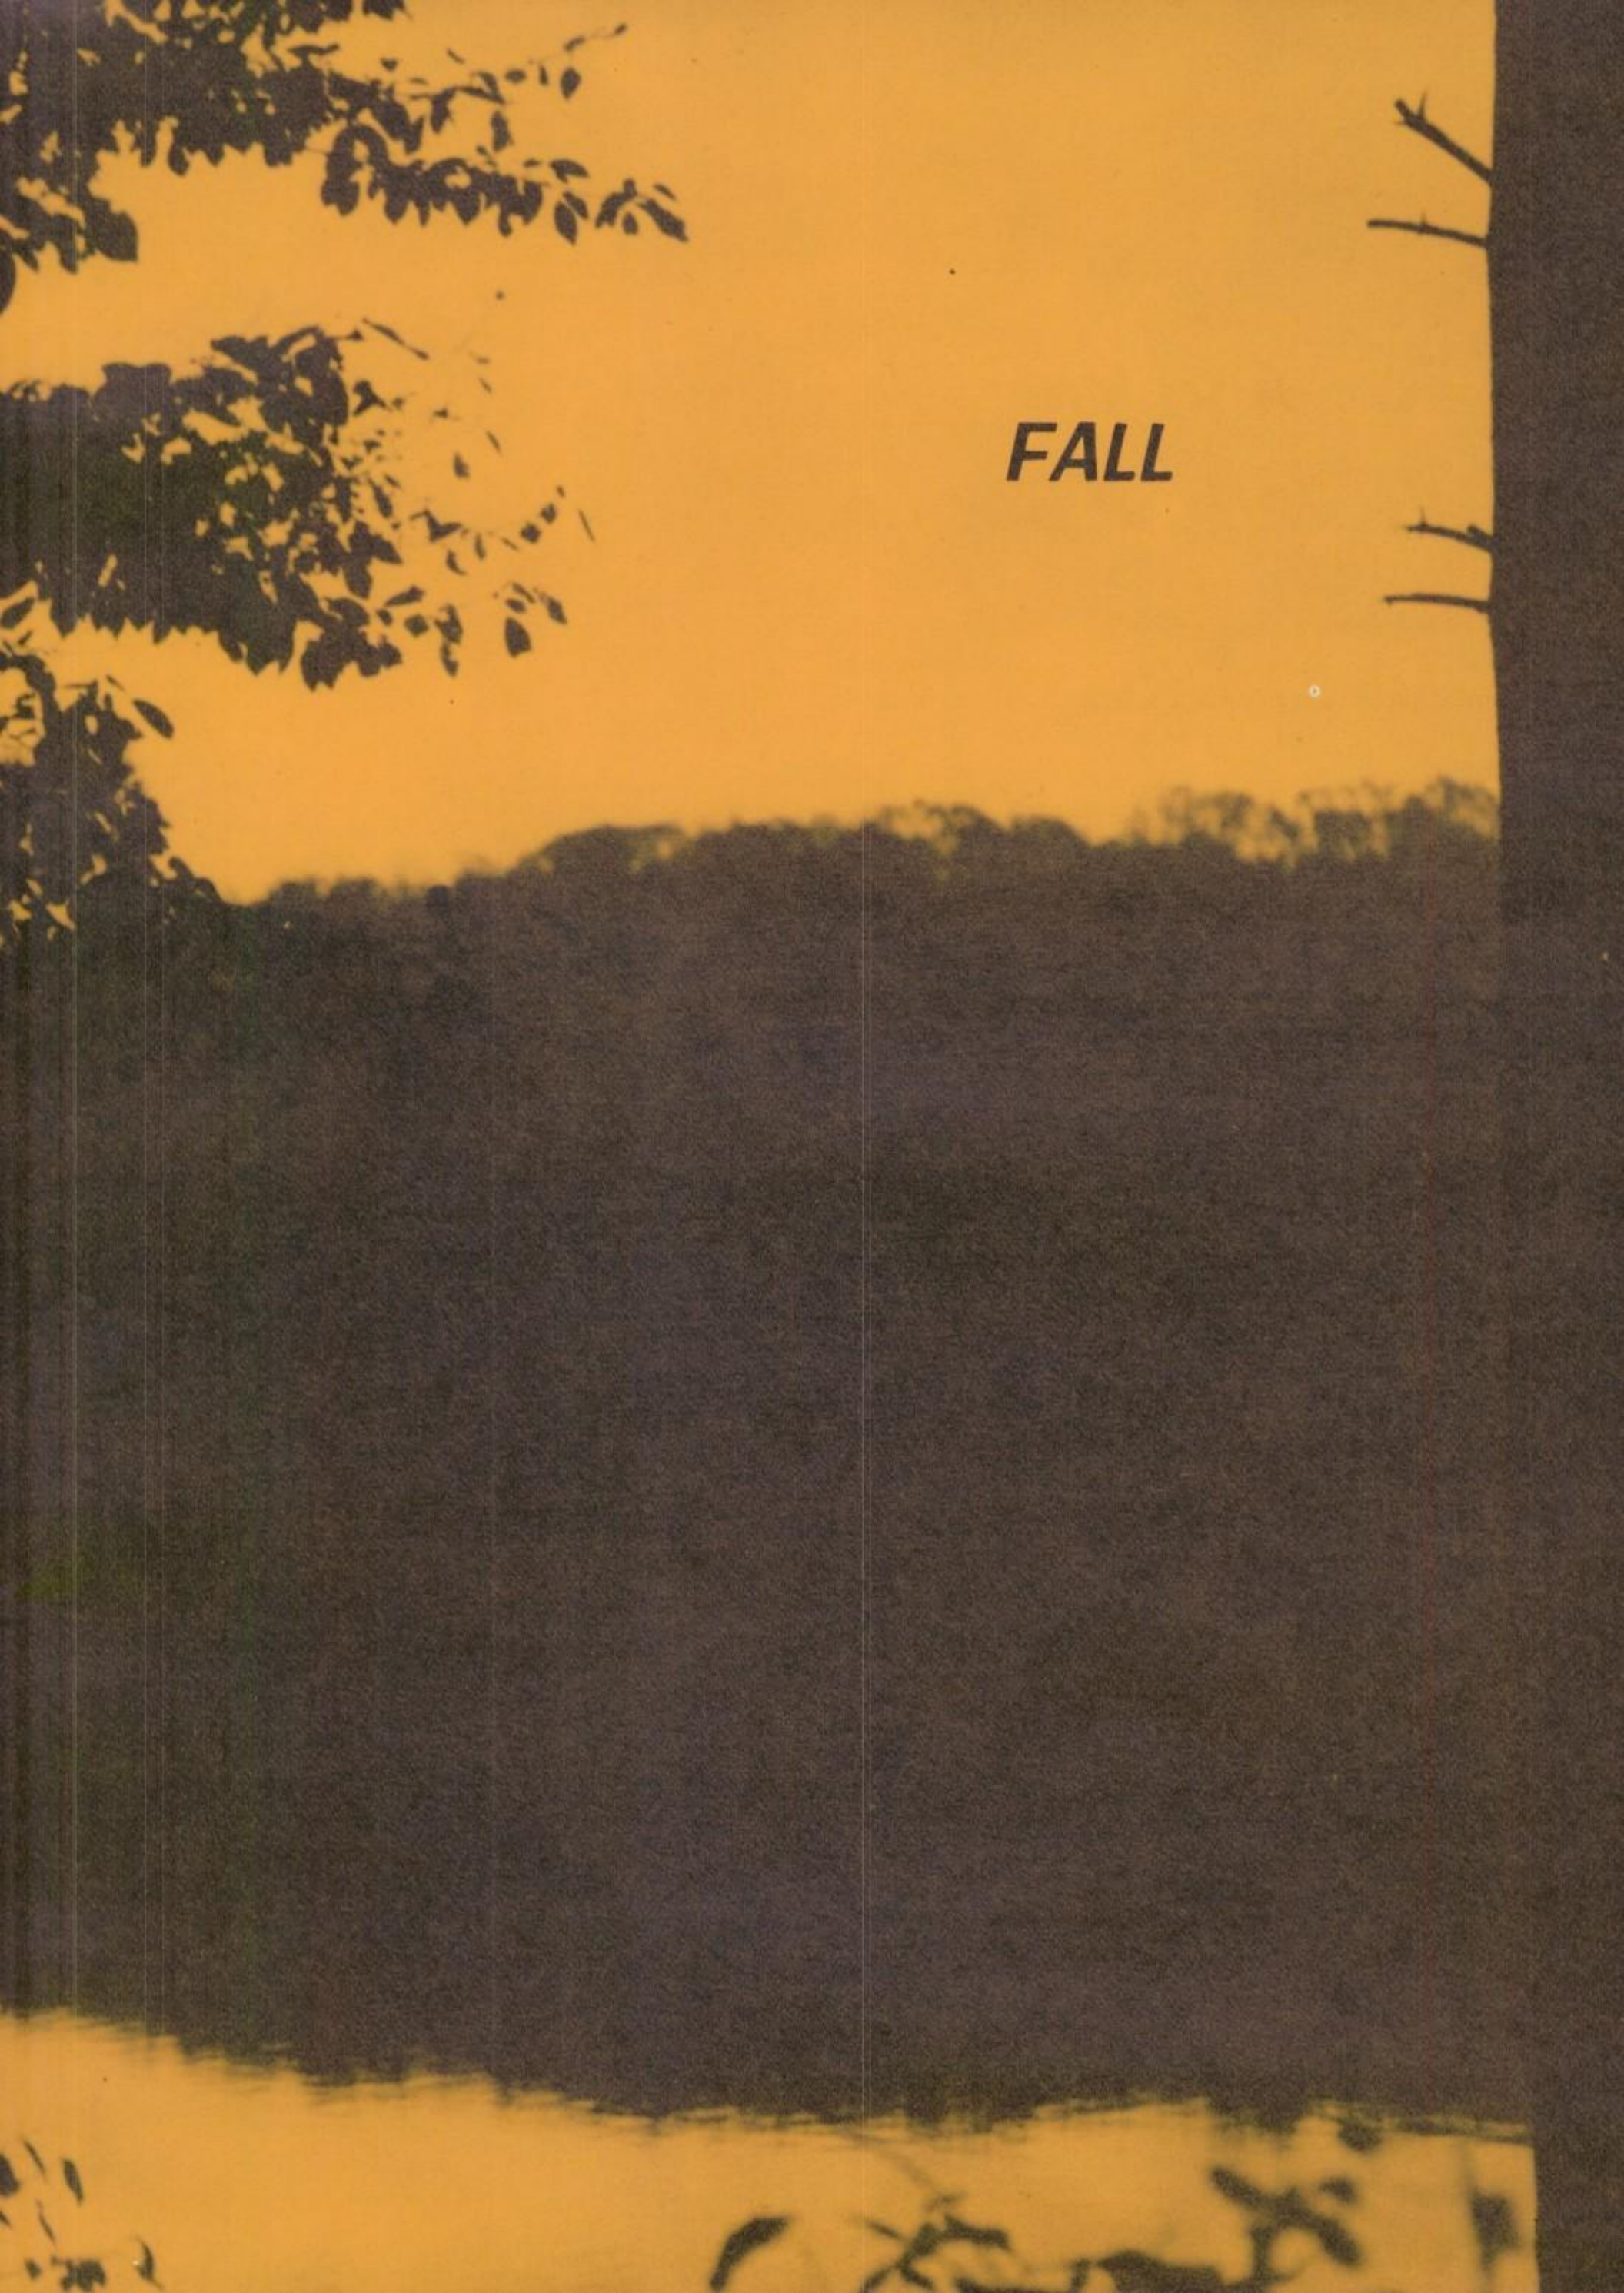
And Let Today Embrace the Past With Remembrance





And the Future With Longing





FALL

And Yet We've Just Begun

The first day of school is just a beginning, with 179 more days to go. The first day for freshmen was a combination of fright, excitement, and total confusion. Seniors reflected that this would be their last first day of school. The in between men - sophomores and juniors - spent their "schedule learning day" counting the weeks until their last first day of school.

"When it all seems so relentless; When my striving seems so senseless; When tensions take shape, I feel the pressure building, and it's just too much to take . . ."

The endless hours of sweaty toil can make or break a football team. Our 76 team, sometimes feeling discouraged for a day or two, could always get back into shape in time for their games. The 5-5 record was an improvement over last year's team. Most games, including our losses, did not see the opponent scoring too highly. The experienced and skillful defensive line was the biggest asset to the team. By next year, our offense should be just as experienced and capable, bringing in point after point. Coaches Gentzler, Blough, and Gerba proudly led our team members on and urged each player to push himself so that he would honestly be able to say, "I've done my best and I'm proud of what I've accomplished." Our guys gave their all, and we're sure proud of them.

"To-the-Rear-March! . . ."

"There is no limit to perfection. There is no limit to ignorance. This is why we practice."

Susquehannock is very fortunate to have her own mobile pep rally. Under the direction of Mr. Steger, the Marching Band and Bandfront made a large contribution to the spirited excitement of the football games. They never stopped cheering, smiling, or playing those peppy songs.

Hours of summer practice frustration gave way to moments of joy when the Colorguard won a trophy in East Berlin. Morning and afternoon marching drills and travels to faraway games were only a part of the contributions made by one of the best marching groups in SHS history.

"Where there is doubt, let me sow faith . . . where there is despair, hope, and where there is sadness, joy."

This year, the varsity cheerleaders were comprised of seven juniors and two seniors. The cheerleaders kept their smiles through freezing weather, rain, drastic defeats, and somewhat cruel comments, at times. Nevertheless, under the direction of Mrs. Arlene Keeney, our cheerleaders sowed hope, joy, and faith in SHS that we all needed to see in someone else. After they broke the ice, it was easier for the other fans to let loose and join the fun of screaming, jumping, and laughing.

The Spirit Chain

"Dreams are for those who sleep. Life is for us to keep."

Homecoming is like a dream, but the time and effort taken to make the weekend a success is definitely a reality. Early in the season, classes and clubs began planning their floats. At first, all the groups wondered where everyone else was hiding their spirit. Finally, during the last two days of Homecoming week, decorations, spirit chains, and Warrior feathers magically flourished. The excitement of the football game diminished a little, as our boys lost a heart-breaking battle to South Western. Spirits were revised, however, in time for the dance. With hall and spirit prizes and a new queen, it finally seemed like a new school year.

Two New Coaches

"Challenge is the core and mainspring of all human activity. If there's an ocean, we cross it; if there's a disease, we cure it; if there's a wrong, we right it; if there's a record, we break it; and finally, if there's a mountain, we climb it."

New records were accomplished by the 1976 hockey teams. The J.V. squad struggled to take the county championship, as the Varsity team tallied 38 goals in one season, a new school record. Also for the first time in seven years the Varsity players put away D-Town!

Hot, tough summer camp along with long hard practices proved rewarding for the Warriorettes. Among the new team members were new coaches. Miss Stauffer moved into the Varsity Coaching spot and what a better way for Miss Nease to begin her coaching career but to have a championship J.V. team.

It Took Loads of Effort

''Those were the days, my friend. We thought they'd never end.''

Sometimes it is necessary to reflect on good experiences of past years, as an example to the teams that will follow. This was the case with the '76 golf team, who ended their season with 6 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. Kent Bostic, placing sixth in the District III contest was later invited to the state tournament. Jerry Glatfelter also went to Districts. With the help of Coach Defendall, our usually consistently great golfers should be back in swing by next season.

"I am forever walking on these shores betwixt the sand and the foam. The high tide will erase my footprints. And the wind will blow away the foam. But the sea, and the shore, will remain forever."

The struggles between the lawmakers and the citizens will never cease. There will probably always be a little trouble in the understanding department between administration and students.

This year, new rules were made, naturally accompanied by new hassles. By October, however, all was forgiven and forgotten, and we learned to accept the reality of our slightly restricted society.

The members of our administration department have done all they could do for our well being. Of course, there will always be differences of opinions, but with every rise and fall, we come one step closer to meeting at the perfect compromise.

Keep Your Face in the Sunshine . . .

This quote must be the slogan of every cook, custodian, and aide at Susquehannock. At lunch everyone gets a "hello" from our cooks. During the course of the day, most people encounter at least one aide or custodian. These people always have a friendly smile or a cheery word if one of us looks low. Certainly our school needs the skills and the services provided by these special people, but it's just nice to know someone else is wishing us well.

The "Girl Crazy" Craze

"The feeling of working without a purpose can sometimes strangle your will."

Practicing for hours when nothing seems to get any better could have really been a drag. But the lively personalities of the student actors in "Girl Crazy" never allowed a boring moment. Even with opening night jitters, forgotten lines, missed cues, and lost props, the will of the people who had given so much time and energy to this performance was not strangled. The show had to go on, and we are all glad that it did!

Was Crazy Fun

AFS . . .

"The love in your heart wasn't put there to stay. Love isn't love till you give it away."

AFS is a big organization at Susquehannock. It sponsors the exchange of students to and from the United States. Some U.S. students also got a chance to visit other U.S. cities for 6 months. Culture, love, education, friendship and tears are exchanged. It is self sufficient and very expensive to run. But, it is certainly a worthy cause! This year we got 2 foreign girls, a California Kid, and a South American teacher. In return, 2 of our girls were sent abroad, a junior girl visited Minnesota, and one of our teachers was also able to experience a new culture.

It takes many, many projects to keep an organization like this going. Everyone involved deserves recognition, but that is nearly impossible. Instead, we will recognize the officers - Gale Thoman, Sharon Keeney, Terry Hendrix and Paula Trimpey, and the faithful advisors, Phyllis, Elwood and Mrs. Baer.

"Should you sit upon a cloud you would not see the boundaries between one country and another, nor the boundary stone between a farm and a farm.

It is a pity you cannot sit upon a cloud."

Understanding, Loving, and Caring

The Domestic Exchange Program is still a relatively new type of AFS experience. For every student a school receives, one must be sent. Susquehannock sponsored Lori Smith to a school in Minnesota. Her experiences were special and exciting to her. Words can never begin to describe the changed emotions and different views of the world acquired during an AFS trip.

Dick Wilkins, a lively, sparkling guy from Southern California, was our six months guest at Susquehannock. Dick smiled constantly, and we think he really meant it (most of the time). Dick had a good word about everyone, and any complaint was always fully justified. Dick, who stayed with Connie and Jim Webster, made a host of true friends. He became involved in many clubs and was also a yearbook photographer. Judging by his good-bye party, no one wanted to see him leave.

We already miss you, Dick. It will be great to see your sunshine smile again.

Our AFS club also joined a brand new program - the teacher exchange. Edgar Hernandez, from Costa Rica, visited the U.S. as a Spanish teacher. He stayed with the Harvey's in Hametown. Mr. Ruth and Sẽnor Hernandez became close friends. He also visited classes to discuss his country. We enjoyed his short visit and hope that he has profited from our school.

"I want to learn what life is for, I don't want much; I just want more. Ask what I want and I will sing I want everything (everything). I'd like to have the perfect twin. One who'd go out as I come in, One who'd grab that big brass ring, then I'll have everything, everything."

Lissette is our Guatemalan exchange student. Her huge, dark eyes and questioning smile often say, "I want to learn so much, and I'm going to try to do it." She has a quiet, yet outgoing personality. For those who do not know her, it seems impossible to imagine. But for anyone who knows Lissette (and to know her is to love her!), this unlikely combination always fills our hearts with love and joy.

Lissette Amado spent her year in America with the Thoman family. She won many true friends by being so loving and attentive. Lissette, please remember us; it would be hard for us to lose our fond memories of you.

Guatemalan Sunshine

"Believe in woman - in her dignity, intelligence, strength, and sensitivity, and in her ability to create and initiate. Believe in her obligation to develop her qualities to the fullest and for the contribution such development will make to her country and world."

Liesel Guttes is an AFS Student from Germany. She isn't afraid to be herself, so she has won many close friends who love her for who she really is. Liesel is outgoing and is friendly to everyone. We are so proud to know her because she makes us so happy. It is simply impossible to be in a bad mood with Liesel around.

The Traynors (a whole houseful of them!), let Liesel into their lives, and we're sure that now they don't want to let her go. We don't want to lose her either - she has given us hilarious stories, funny faces, and has befriended us when we're down.

Good-Bye, Liesel. Please come back.

Discovery of Faraway Places

BELOW: Paula Trimpey
RIGHT: Kathy Ochterbeck

This page is dedicated to Susquehannock AFSers who have gone to represent our school. Two senior girls spent their summers abroad. Kathy Ochterbeck spent a summer in Venezuela. Paula Trimpey stayed in Denmark. Both had very rewarding trips and learned about their new countries, as well as learning about themselves.

Vanessa Almony and Ruby Doyle were last year's Domestic Exchange Students. Vanessa spent six months at a large school in California and Ruby lived in Montana, where she attended a smaller, personal high school. These girls also learned to know themselves better, and they got a better view of the U.S. and its people.

Thanks, AFS for all these experiences.

Listen to Each Other . . .

"You are right from your side; I am right from mine. We're just one too many mornings and a thousand miles behind."

Although there are always two sides to a story, Student Council's function is to give us a third side - a compromise. The activities got off to a slow start, but by December our representatives had things in full swing. It didn't take long before Council had enough money to start supporting other groups with financial needs and help them get back on their feet. The students also really enjoyed getting into the fun dances and other activities sponsored by Council.

This year's Student Council, headed by Karen Traynor and advised by Mr. Ruth, did an excellent job. We owe a big "thanks" to everyone who gave so much of himself and we offer our optimistic vote of confidence to next year's student government.

WINTER

"From your smile I'll build a wall, the tallest wall that man has ever known. Then I'll hide behind your smile, and never be alone."

The entire weekend is always composed of love and laughs. Everyone remembers everyone else's smile. It is a unique experience - knowing someone for a short time, yet being as close as a brother or sister to them. The relationship established is a very strong and lasting one.

The weekend starts with each visiting student assigned to a Susquehannock home. Friday, an interesting (and fun) assembly was presented to us. After school on Friday, AFS sponsored a tea, giving teachers a chance to talk to the exchange students. Several parties and down-to-earth talks were held, as we developed a closer relationship to each other.

The highlight of the AFS weekend was the annual dance, where the boy and girl who has raised the most money for AFS is crowned king and queen. This year's royalty was Kent Bostic and Terry Hendrix.

On Sunday, the clean-up crew from the dance, with tear filled eyes and dusty mops, removed the last remains of the '77 AFS Weekend. But the letters and phone calls between the new friends will be cherished forever.

Basketball

"If people want to see themselves as unable to do something, they manage to forget the times they actually have done it. That's what growth is; doing things you've never done before, sometimes things you once didn't even dream you could do."

Basketball is an assertive sport - each boy must give his all to make the team effort work. Sometimes it seems as if we will never win. But the fantastic part is the determination and effort ending in a dazzling victory.

The boys hustled to a record of 7 wins and 14 losses. We lacked playing experience but the new coach, Mr. Rynearson, kept the boys motivated and hustling. The JV guys, with Mr. Yeckley as coach, held to a record of 5 wins and 16 losses. Last, but not least, Mr. Sutton coached the 9th graders to 3 victories, with 9 losses.

Smiles, jumps, and giggles (with occasional falls) were all a part of learning to be a cheerleader. These girls worked very hard - trying to acquire all the necessary skills and tactics of becoming a full-fledged spirit-booster.

Miss Sellers was the head of JV and ninth grade cheerleaders. They worked well with each other. They found happiness by making others smile. It was a joyous experience for the novices to watch a victory in the making - a victory that they were a part of. It was also a real task accepting a defeat - a defeat that they were very much a part of. But everything serves a purpose; we are confident all their experiences will help them become great Varsity members.

"There's a spotlight waiting, no matter who you are. Everybody's got a song to sing. Everyone's a star."

In wrestling, it is true that everyone makes his own success to glorify Susquehannock. Wrestling hard, excruciating practices, not eating for a week, spending study halls running and sweating, and using those very last bits of energy to conquer his opponent.

Billy Mays captured a first place in the sectional wrestling match. Third place honors went to Tom Gilbert, Ken Seiling, and Bart Glatfelter, and Billy Mays made it to States.

The JV team, coached by Mr. Nichols, held to a super record of ten wins and four losses.

We would also like to wish success in the coming years to the members of the Ninth Grade Wrestling Team, and their coach, Mr. Donley.

Wrestling Cheerleaders

"Slow to condemn - quick to justify, slow to reprimand - quick to forbear, slow to belittle - quick to appreciate, slow to demand - quick to give, slow to provoke - quick to help."

A cheerleader must always be prepared to take a strong defense for her school, team, and herself. Wrestling cheerleaders still have a relatively new job, but they have already established a good format. They promoted and backed the wrestling team. The emotional involvement was obvious, and surely encouraged the guys. In fact, the enthusiasm they offered was refreshing to everyone. Mrs. Keeny and her girls liked what they were doing and it showed.

A Season of Struggle

"We just keep on living, caught somewhere there between the reason and the meaning, the vision and the dream. We are all in this together, oh, I know that seems easy to say. But I don't use the word 'forever.' It's enough to just say 'someday.' "

The struggle for acceptance of girl's sports - especially basketball - is a tough one. But the backing and support seemed especially encouraging to the girls this year. The practices were hard and exhausting - sometimes seeming impossible.

With Mrs. Baer and Miss Nease to guide them, the girls struggled to a 2-13 season. The way it looks now, it surely won't be forever - the triumph will come soon.

Happy Elves at Work . . .

"The more efficient a force is, the more silent and more subtle it is. Love is the subtlest force in the world."

Quietly, swiftly, and sincerely are the three rules for carrying out the Santa's Little Helpers project. Mrs. Manchey asked three junior girls - Lori Keller, Wanda Dubbs, and Peggy Delp - to be in charge of the activity. In groups of three, the many volunteers set out to visit needy families with groceries, diapers for the little ones, and a few luxury items, all donated by community and school members. The project was a success and helped to instill the true Christmas spirit in every one touched by Santa's elves.

Also in the Christmas spirit, the senior cooks sponsored a tea. That was also a success, with a cookie and candy "house" a big attraction.

Two of the other outstanding events surrounding the Christmas season were the fantastic turnout for the Student Council Christmas dance and the snow on the 26th of December!

Calumet . . .

"So it's the best times we will remember - whenever we remember - the way we were."

The Calumet is an important activity at Susquehannock. It involves capturing just the right moments in and out of school and working long, long hours. Nothing seemed right . . . the pictures never seemed to fit the layouts . . . everyone seemed to fight the meetings . . . the deadlines seemed to creep up on us before we seemed to realize it. But, we all seemed to have so much fun and found a sense of accomplishment, so it seems as if the bad moments don't really count.

Representatives of all lifestyles at Susquehannock helped develop the yearbook. Mr. Becker, Diane Null, and Gail Thoman advised the staff to rules of the publication world. We sincerely hope that all the efforts, lost croppers, inside fights, and drained creativity have produced a yearbook for you to be proud of.

Courier

"Great is journalism. Is not every able editor a ruler of the world, being the persuader of it?"

This year's journalism class got a true glimpse into the news reporter's world. They gave us COURIER, the school newspaper. In it, we found interesting and informative articles about our school - teachers, students, administration, and school functions and activities. The COURIER did an excellent job of representing our school on a page in the YORK DISPATCH, using various journalism techniques.

Journalism was also responsible for the weekly newsletter, SMOKE SIGNALS. This paper gave us updates on the school store's supplies and prices. Sports scores and community activities were also listed.

The advisor of this energetic group of aspiring writers was the equally energetic Mrs. McSweeney. The student leaders were Ruby Doyle and Donna Miller.

A Day of . . .

"Happiness is added - even multiplied - when divided with others."

"Hey, teachers are really human!" "Wow! I really had a rough day." "I must have had to repeat that explanation a hundred times to each class." These are some of the responses heard at the end of the day on April 21. This was the day Student Council sponsored Teacher Appreciation Day.

Students assumed responsibilities and roles of a teacher, secretary, counselor, cook, or custodian. A flower and an apple were presented to each teacher. The teachers were allowed to sit back and relax most of the day. A tea was held at the end of the day for everyone to share their experiences with each other. The teachers appreciated the help, and the students really appreciated being appreciated by the teachers. It was a good day.

Many of us put people into two different groups - the serious student and the clown. Being too much of either of these is a bore to everyone else. Knowing how to read and understand people is very important. We must learn to look for two sides in everyone. Humor is one of the most fantastic gifts with which a person can be blessed; and knowing how to use this gift is indeed a talent. On these next two pages you will find some peculiar happenings, and the participants may surprise you. Just remember, a well balanced personality can make you a fun person to be around. There is a little bit of clown in all of us, so smile!

Class of '78

"You cannot have youth and the knowledge of it at the same time; for youth is too busy to know, and knowledge is too busy seeking itself to live."

Juniors found themselves looking at the world quite differently than they had done the previous year. Everything seemed to begin to fall into perspective for them. "Maybe I'm not the only person in the world - maybe other's emotions should be important to me, too."

Next to the Senior year, the Junior year is probably the most binding year in high school. Activities are pursued, in order to make money for the main event - the PROM. Members of the class feel close and willing to be a brother or sister to a classmate. The experiences gained in previous years have begun to pay off. As Juniors, they were not quite ready to seriously consider after high school prospects; but the realization of the need for them to be stronger, more mature, made them lose a little bit of their tenth grade rowdiness. Sure, they had loads of fun, but their style had definitely changed!!

Good luck, Senior candidates!

"You may forget the one with whom you have laughed, but never the one with whom you have wept."

The sophomores finally found a true sense of belonging at Susquehannock this year. They also felt older and more interested in school. And it looked as if school was becoming interested in them. Jackets and class rings sported the names of student and school alike. They also boasted organizations and sports activities that the sophomore had participated in.

The freedom of choosing social studies, science, and English courses that will suit their personalities and interests was exciting and important. Sophomores learned to become more individual and a bit more prepared to enter the big world.

"I-I hardly know, Sir - just at present - at least, I know who I was when I got up this morning.

But I think I must have been changed several times since then."

Yes, after one day at high school, any freshman will realize just how many changes have taken place. A certain amount of independence, personality, and growth come with a year of high school days. It is difficult to go into a crowded study or lunch shift, finding absolutely no sign of a familiar face. One must learn to take the initiative for new friendships.

SPRING

JV Volleyball . . .

"Pride, like ambition, is sometimes virtuous and sometimes vicious, according to the character in which it is found, and the object to which it is directed."

The Junior Varsity Volleyball team experienced a very good season this year. They became aware of the sense of competition, hard work, and determination involved in being on a sports squad. The most valuable gains they acquired were those of pride in their accomplishments. There were downfalls, but happiness made up for losses. Closeness between the girls proved they were interested in team accomplishment, not individual and haughty pride.

Action . . .

"Victory, simply for the sake of achieving it, is empty."

The girls volleyball team, under the direction of Miss Adams and Mrs. Baer, made Susquehannock very proud. We have a tradition of a fine vollyeball team, and the excellent win-loss records are not the only fine thing about the team. The girls did a great job of bringing home 11 wins, and 3 losses. They also proceeded well in the higher competitions, such as States, where they finished third. The togetherness and sportsmanship they exhibited were prizes also. Congratulations to the team for the rewards of their efforts.

SHS Spikers

"Strength and tolerance are partners."

The Boy's Volleyball team learned patience, endurance, and strength the hard way. Much hard work, practice, challenges, and the experiences of defeat were very real to those boys during their season. A double-elimination tournament was held this year to determine the boy's volleyball champs. Unfortunately, our guys lost their first two games, and were therefore disqualified.

Even more important than winning is learning to handle wins and losses. The boys did not come away discouraged or bitter. Under Mr. Nichols' supervision and help, they learned to support each other, as they developed even more skills and hopes for next year's team.

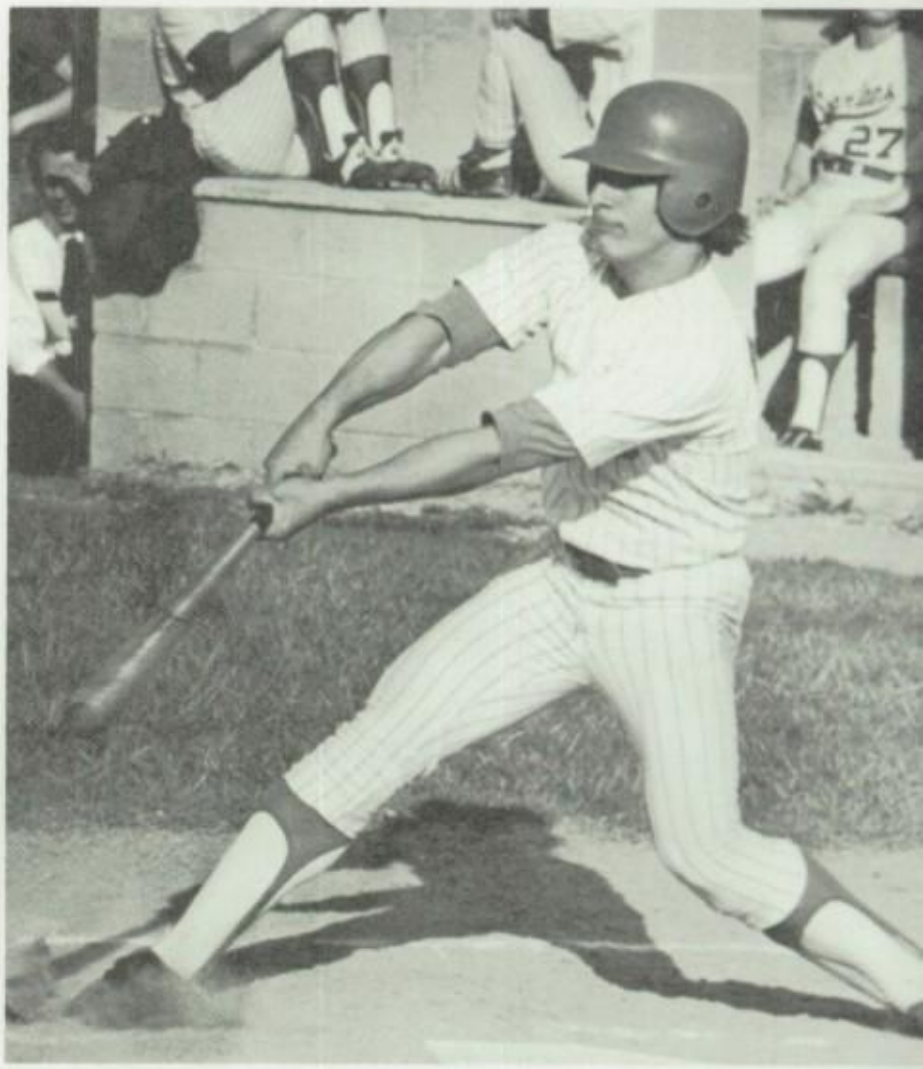
Super



"In activity we must find our joy as well as glory; and labor, like everything else that is good, is its own reward."

The 77 baseball team gave Susquehannock something to be proud of. The season was good, but the spirit of the team was fantastic. The boys were so proud of their accomplishments that even after a loss, we knew that they had given their all for us. The work was difficult and strenuous, but they did find their glory in the game itself. And the work involved was rewarded to the players through our praises and the self esteem they gained through the experience.

"There is many a thing which the world calls disappointment, but there is no such a word in the dictionary of some men."

It is very necessary for a team to have exceptional faith in their team and in their own ability. When so much expectation is put into something even one small loss makes disappointment inevitable. The intramural softball team was in this situation. The girls were tied for first place until their very last game. This game, played with their rival for first place, York Catholic, ended in a tie. Instead of a tie-breaking inning, another entire game had to be played. The girls were psyched and hopeful, but fatigue, heat, and other factors finally gave way to one final loss. They went home with a second place prize. Nevertheless, girls, we are proud of you, and thank you for your efforts.

Do-Re-Mi

"I got music to share. I got music - doesn't anyone care? Let me show the world I'm not through. Let me touch your heart the way I wanna do. I got sunshine and a message to shout. I got a song to be sung!"

People who love the jubilant sounds of choral music definitely belong in the SHS Mixed Chorus. Music means happiness and smiles to Mr. Steger and his group of sing-alongers.

Practices often became tedious and tiring. Scratchy, tired throats often resulted, but the excitement and hard earned praise were well worth the effort.

Tuning Up

"Music has charms to soothe the savage beast, to soften rocks, and bend the knotted oak."

Orchestra music has long been associated with calm and relaxing tones. What most people fail to realize, however, is the great amount of energy, effort, and talent required to make the music flow so smoothly. But under the direction of Mrs. Kathy Diehl, the orchestra performed even the snappy aggressive tunes superbly.

Merry Music Makers

"A crowd is not company and faces are but a gallery of pictures, and talk but a tinkling cymbal."

The band, under the direction of Mr. Steger, realized that all those people in the audience were really watching them. The band was being carefully listened to, analyzed, and generally executed in the spectators minds. It was a scary feeling, but as they got "into" the music, they found themselves giving less concern to the audience.

The muscians were active and concerned with their music, with each other, and with their organization. Finally, in March, the concert band gave an outstanding spring concert. The music department gave us a memorable year - thanks!

NHS

"The great end of education is to discipline rather than to furnish the mind; to train it to the use of its own powers, rather than fill it with accumulations of others."

Education is important to everyone. The goal, however, is not to memorize every piece of information ever collected. It is much more than the knowledge of dates and experimental results. We must learn to recongize truly important characteristics in people and in things. Knowledge of living together, relating to one another, aiding the needy, and leading a fight for our cause should be supplied to us through the education we receive.

Although there are times when the information given to us is not sufficiently supplied, much can be gained through a willing high school education. The deciding factor is the extent to which we decide to apply ourselves. Time and patience, along with knowledge, make a student as much of a total person as possible. This is the purpose of the National Honor Society - to supply recognition to the people who worked so hard to better themselves and their environment. Fortunately for our school, with a student's acceptance into NHS, their services to the school do not stop. They are determined to keep their school, community, and themselves respectable. Tutoring services are also supplied through NHS students. We thank the NHS for setting an example for us and for providing us with a little extra help.

Faces in the Crowd

"If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be! Now put the foundations under them."

Sometimes, especially in the first and last year of our high school career, we build our hopes and our dreams very high. People occasionally have doubts about some of the hopes that we do have for our future. But it is fine to have big dreams because then we can strive very hard to live up to these expectations. Many people go through their entire lives helping people and giving their all, only for the love of bringing friendship and happiness to others. They want no recognition, and they stay in the background. We wish to honor them now.

The awards assembly is a time for students who have accomplished something "above and beyond the call of duty." They, along with the ones who received no prize except personal gratification, get our respect and thanks for making Susquehannock more personal, more fun, and an easier place to learn. We also want to give a special thanks to the Library, Office, and Senior Aides who made the year an easier one for many.

Fun Fair . . .

"But I, being poor, have only my dreams. I have spread my dreams under your feet. Tread softly because you tread on my dreams."

The Sr. Class was in great need of money for their end-of-the-year expenses. The only hope seemed to be the Fun Fair, so on the afternoon of April 2, seniors began setting up stands and preparing a spook house. It was truly a big dream for us and we wanted everyone to treat it with respect. The type of respect we demanded was fun, and we got it. Everyone who attended the Fun Fair had a great time, too.

No one was disappointed with the results of the Fun Fair. The seniors did not go away unhappy, for they harvested the biggest profit ever for the Fun Fair.

Sports Nite

"We can't stop this feeling, deep inside of us. You've got to realize what you mean to us."

Athletics are a difficult field to pursue. Some people have a natural ability for sports, and some people simply make up their minds to be an active participant, rather than a spectator. In either case, playing a sport is not easy. Fun and worthwhile, yes; easy, no! Sports is one of the major ways that our school is represented to others, and our athletes think it is important to make a good impression on others, so they gave their all for Susquehannock's pride. It takes many people to make a sport a success: coaches, managers, trainers, players, and even spectators. Athletes, Susquehannock is proud of you, too!

Subject to . . .

"If someone has a talent and learns somehow to use the whole of it, he has gloriously succeeded, and won a satisfaction and a triumph few men ever know."

The feeling of accomplishment after a play is unexplainable. A rough talent, an exciting desire to achieve, and an enormous amount of tedious practice produces a class play. After the edges have been smoothed, the actors and actresses begin to notice the emerging characters that they are creating. It takes dedication, but with Mr. Ruth's help, the many students involved with the play learned how much work is involved in the production of a play. They began to realize their full potential in the acting department, as they tried to meet these goals. The title; "Up the Down Staircase" was an appropriate title for a play this year at Susquehannock. Teachers remembered their first years at the job, and students identified with the rebellion expressed. Most importantly, we all enjoyed the play, which was presented well.

"There's a lady who's sure all that glitters is gold, and she's buying a stairway to heaven."

The ever-popular and romantic song, "Stairway to Heaven," provided the theme for the 1977 Jr.-Sr. Prom. As we crossed over the bridge into a heavenly wonderland, filled with brooks, stars, clouds, and of course, a white spiral staircase entering the skies, we suddenly overcame our jitters and relaxed with our date. Most couples were scared about the flowers not matching, something spilled on a new gown, or changing a flat tire in a new suit or rented tux. Miraculously, however, almost everything ran smoothly, and everyone had a fantastic evening.

The Junior class had a difficult time raising money, planning ideas, getting equipment, setting up, and finding people to help with the different aspects involved. There were the usual fights and discouragements between the class members, but on Saturday evening, June 4, all the bad moments were forgotten and, as some of the members of the class gathered around the punch bowl, they knew that everything had worked out well enough to let stale memories turn into fantastic remembrances of their own prom.

Graduation '77

"My house says to me, 'Do not leave me for here dwells your past.' The road says to me, 'Come and follow me, for here dwells your future.' So if I go, there is a staying in my going. And if I stay, there is a going in my staying."

This quote relates to our worry and indecision on the night of graduation. It is all explained in the above passage: the desire to be independent and exploring; the longing to remain a teenager. Yet for each of these emotions, we feel a certain reprisal to them. The choice is a very individual one, as well as a frightening one. Even on the night of our graduation, most of the seniors were still searching for the right choice: to dwell or to voyage. Luckily, we possess an entire lifetime, created solely for the purpose of making this choice.

"C'mon people now, smile on your brother. Everybody get together, try to love one another right now."

Excitement, built-up pressure, and tension had begun to tear at members of the class of 77. The class seemed to drift farther apart, instead of becoming more of a large, happy group. Finally, while sailing on an all night cruise, we began to pull ourselves together. Music and stiffness were partners, as we danced until we could not move. We played silly games and won fantastic prizes, and chased a greased watermelon in the pool during 40 weather. In the end, tear-filled eyes and an abundance of hugs and smiles filled the gaps we had created among ourselves! We appreciated the effort and love our parents had put into this party, and we think they had as much fun as we did! With the late night sleepiness disappearing into early morning reality (with the help of trumpets and a great poem), we held each other closely, and quickly admitted, "I'm gonna miss you, Friend. Let's keep in touch!"

Class of '77

"As you go to find yourself, don't look too hard. You may pass yourself by, reaching too high. And as you go to take your peace, don't go too fast. Just pretend there's no end, and make yourself last. One day you'll find your restless searching at an end. You'll think your life has changed. But it's just you, my friend."

The few darknesses we did encounter did not deprive us of fun. Every senior now has his own special memories of weekend partying, hooked days, and occasional romances. As our years together progressed, we had each grown more tolerant and understanding of one another. Frustration, excitement, and rushing to finish last minute graduation requirements were all a part of our senior year. There were lots of projects and fun: the Fun Fair, and the all night party, and finally, our parting tears. As we learned and grew together, we got to know one another as individuals and as important parts of our own lives.

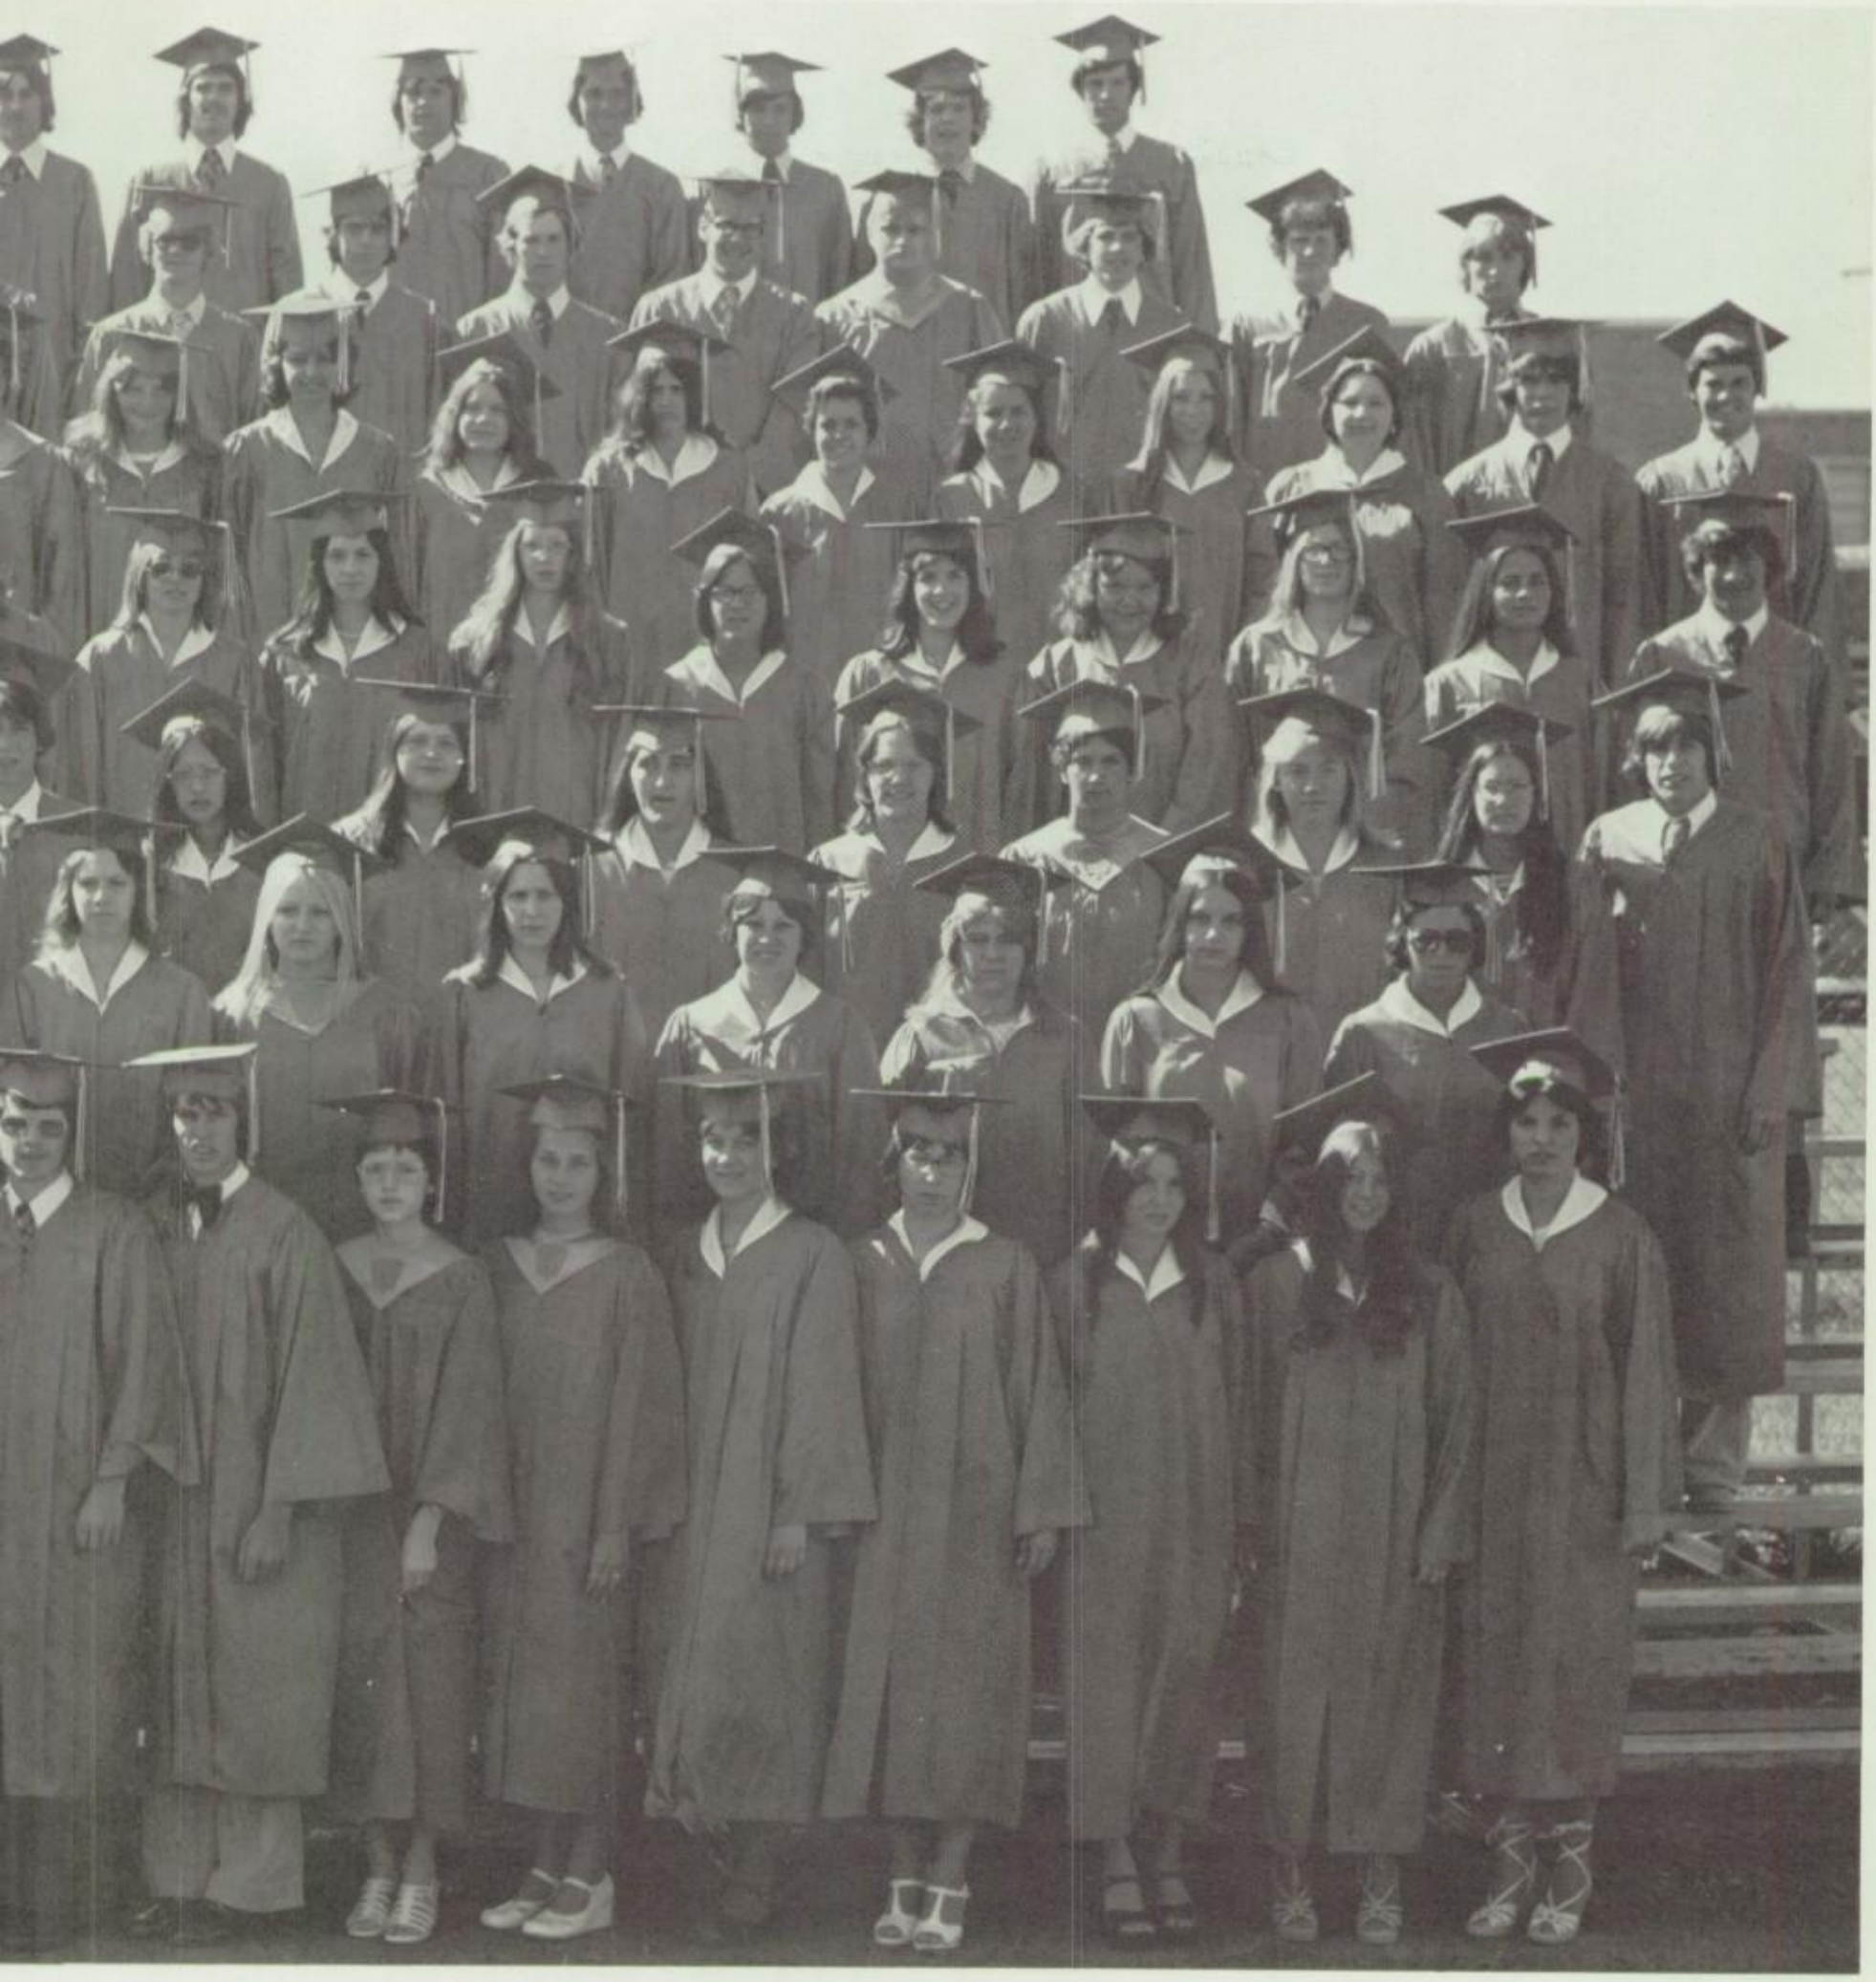
"Friend, I will remember you, think of you, pray for you. And when another day is through, I'll still be friends with you."

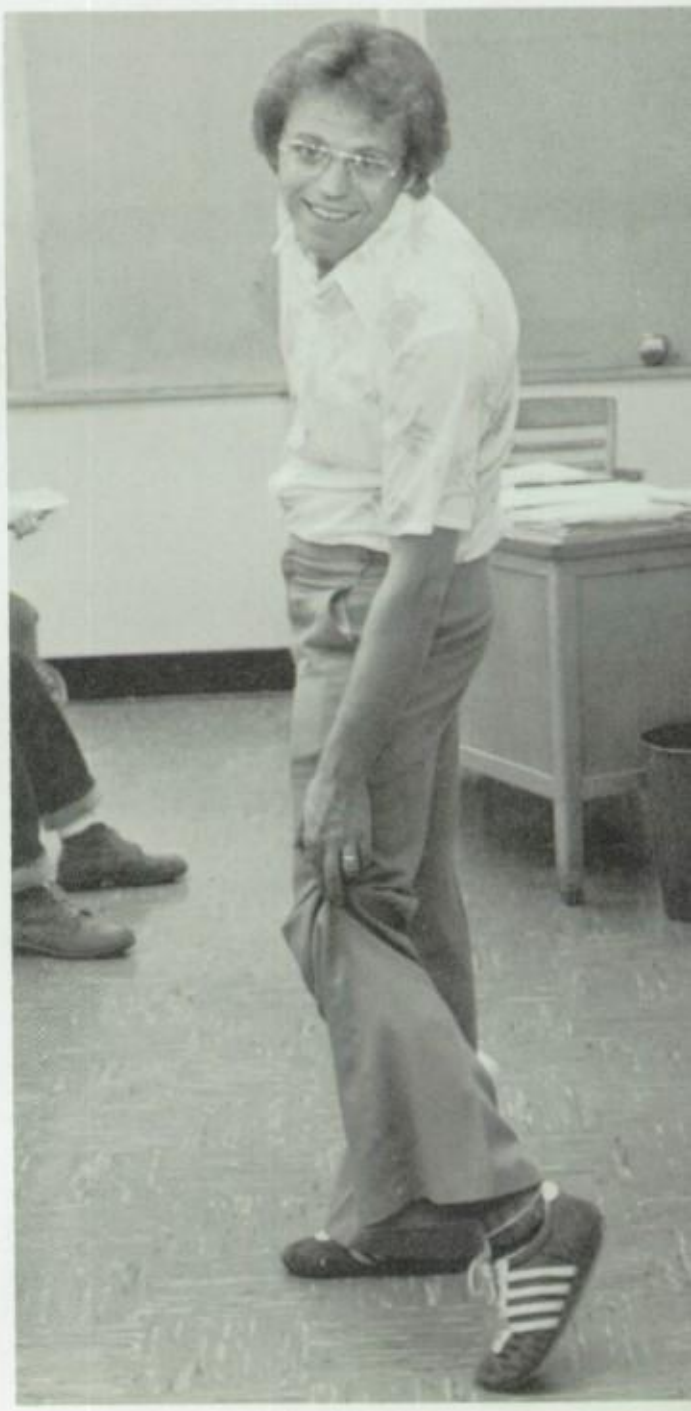
Long Time

It's been such a long time, I think I should be goin'.
And time doesn't wait for me, it keeps on rollin'.
Sail on, on a distant highway.
I've got to keep on chasin' a dream.
I've gotta be on my way; wish there was something I could say.
Well, I'm takin' my time, I'm just movin' on.
You'll forget about me after I've been gone.
And I take what I find, I don't want no more,
It's just outside of your front door.
Yeah, Yeah, Yeah, Yeah.
It's been such a long time.
It's been such a long time.

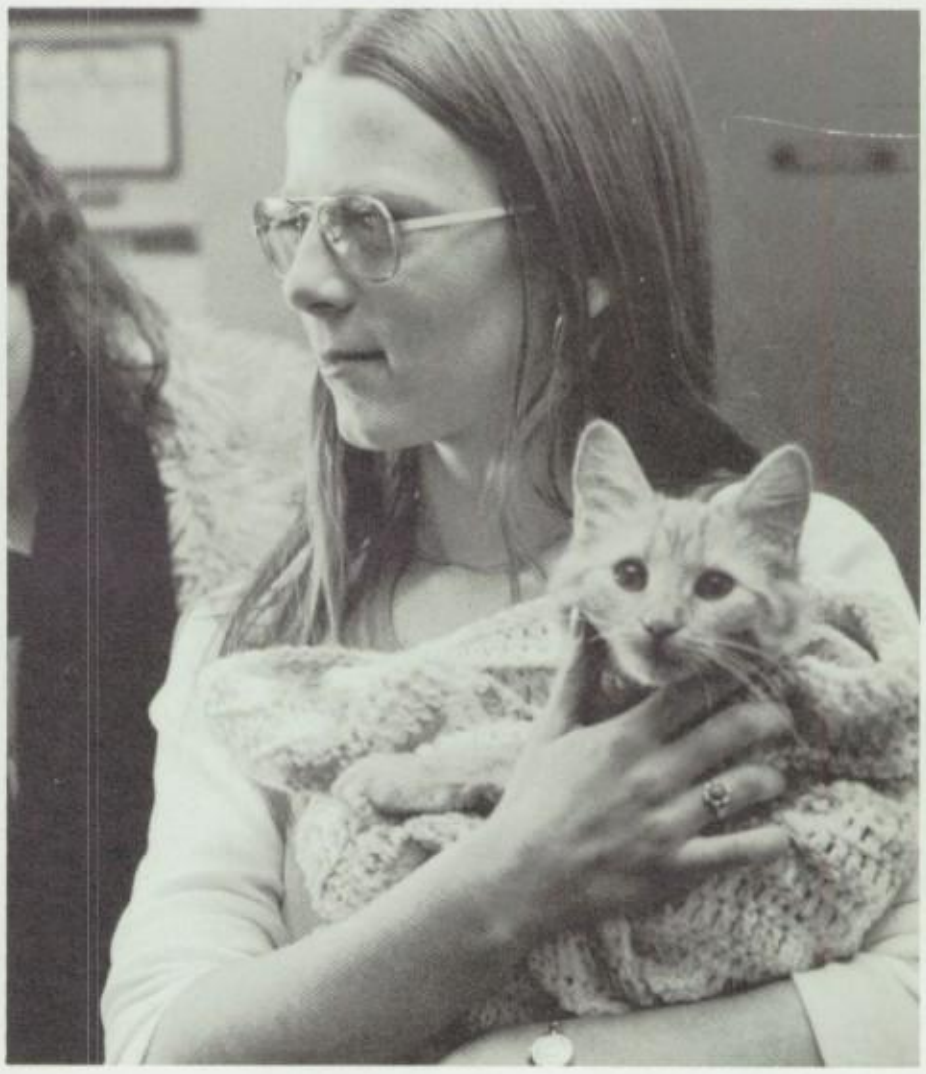


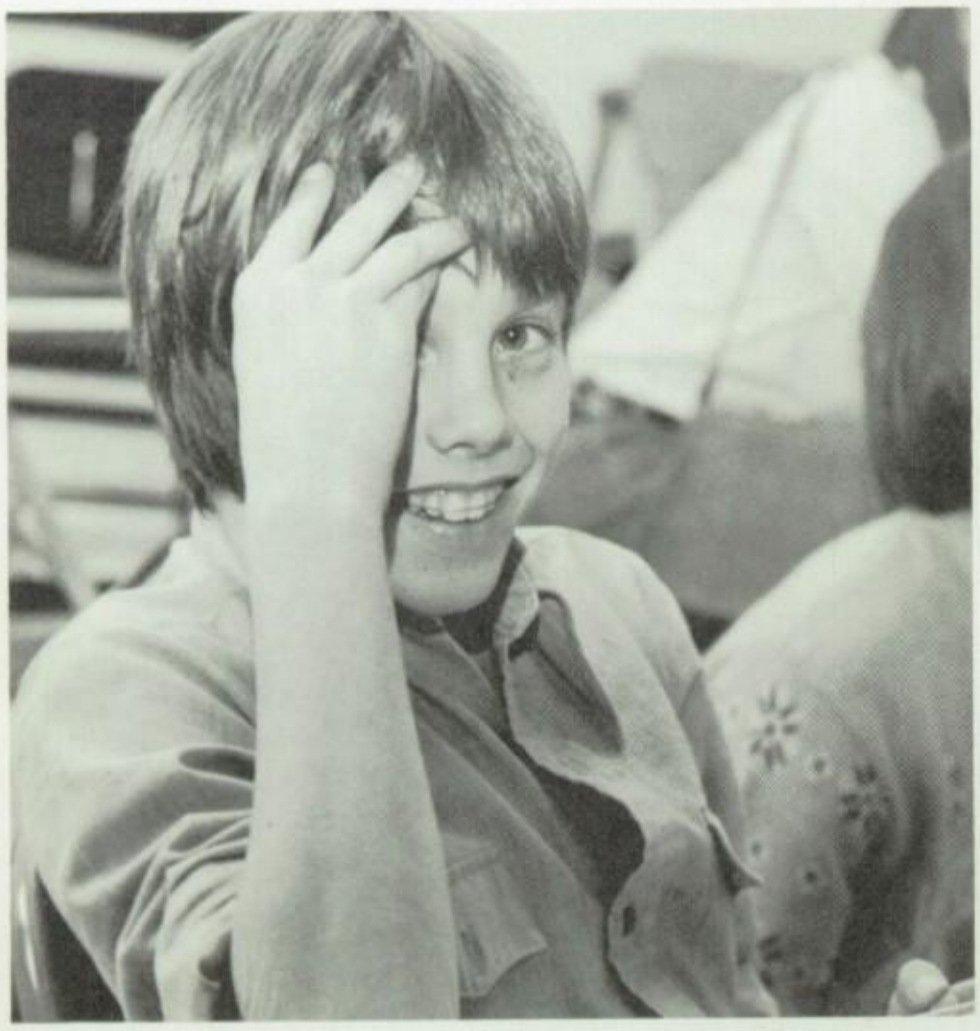
Well, I get so lonely when I am without you,
But in my mind, deep in my mind, I can't forget about you.
Good times and faces that remind me;
I'm tryin' to forget your name and leave it all behind me.
You're comin' back to find me.
Well, I'm takin' my time, I'm Just movin' on.
You'll forget about me after I've been gone.
And I take what I find, I don't want no more.
It's just outside my front door.
Yeah, Yeah, Yeah, Yeah.
It's been such a long time.
It's been such a long time.
It's been such a long time, I think I should be goin'.
And time doesn't wait forme, it keeps on rollin'.
There's a long road I've gotta stay in time with.
I've got to keep on chasin' that dream,
Though I may never find it, I'm always just behind it.
Well, I'm takin' my time, I'm movin' on.
Takin' my time, I'm just movin' on.

And We Will Hold

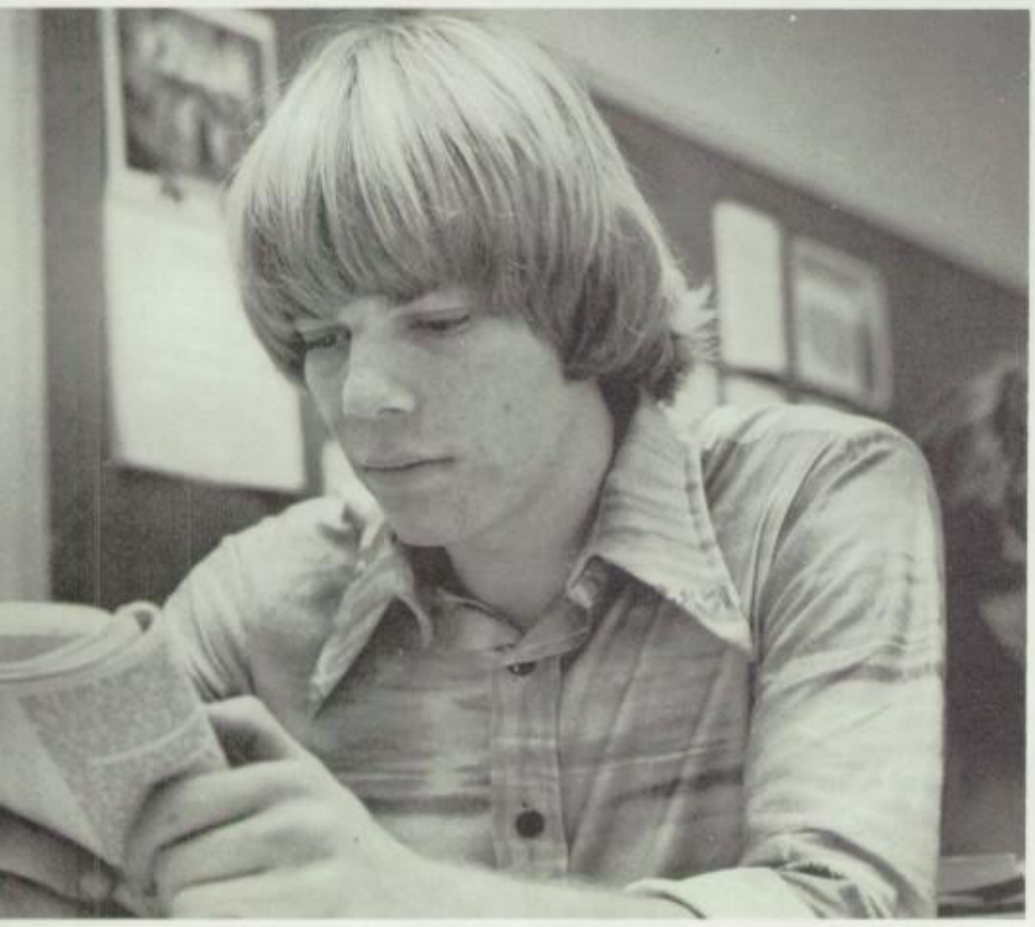


Today's Memories





Forever . . .



In Our Minds

As We Look to the Future

With New Expectations

"Your confidence in the people, and your doubts about them are closely related to your self-confidence and your self-doubt."

Our emerging personalities gave all of us some trouble. We experienced rebellion - against society, school, family, and, for a few, against ourselves. Scott Richardson and Don Aten were trying so hard to discover themselves, but there seemed to be too much missing. As they finally were thinking that it was all fitting together, their main source of energy and life seemed to collapse. Truly, their wariness for society's misgivings was because of their personal misgivings. Perhaps we all should have tried harder with each of them, or perhaps they had begun to search for answers too soon in their lives and felt as through the questions were too heavy to bear. In any event, they took the final road to search for whatever they so desperately needed.

Charlie Kline was a much happier person deep inside. His special humor and friendly smile put many people at ease with him. Charlie was not extremely outgoing, but he was anxious to know people, and his presence was a gift in many of the classes we shared with him.

The fourth of our classmates to pass away within one year was Alex Everett. Alex had left our class, and joined the U.S. Navy, but he was definitely still a part of us. We were sorry to hear about his motorcycle accident in San Diego. A short time before his accident, some of us had the chance to talk with Alex. His outlook on life and his desires for his future had drastically changed. We felt a sense of longing in his character and we were sensitive to his opinions. Happily, Alex parted with his friends on a very cheerful and sincere note.

We feel great sorrow and loss for our classmates. We also express sympathy to the several members of our class who lost mothers, fathers, and brothers and sisters over this school year. The class of 77 has had more than its share of sorrow, yet it did encourage us to feel for one another and to develop our sensitivity. Hopefully, everyone will be able to see the importance of living our own lives to the fullest capacity. We need to dream and desire the best for ourselves, and to strive to bring joy and love to as many others as we possibly can. Acceptance and help in our friends' endeavors are essential to a rich full life. "Love, like death, changes everything."

The quality of life comes in many forms.

Food, shelter and clothing. Education, Health care. Recreation.

These go into the quality of life. And we want to help our employees and their communities achieve the quality they want.

By providing jobs - and a chance to learn and grow on the job.

Through taxes for schools and services.

With our efforts to protect the environment.

By encouraging employee participation in government and community functions.

By manufacturing useful and dependable products.

And by managing our forest lands to provide recreational opportunity, and to serve as a habitat for wildlife.
